Insider Threat Awareness

September is Insider Awareness Month, and Proofpoint’s 2020 focus is on “Resilience”.

Insider threats are prolific because anyone with legitimate, trusted access to an organization’s systems or data – whether its careless users, disgruntled employees or compromised accounts – can be an insider threat.

Understanding what is driving the increase in frequency and cost of insider threats is important when selling Proofpoint’s Insider Threat Management solution to your customers.

Virtual Events and Webinars

For Customers: Webinar

Sept 16, 2020 - Insider Threat Management

Customers will learn how to build a resilient insider threat program and speed up investigation time to reduce mitigation costs. We’ll also demo Proofpoint’s Insider Threat Management Solution.

For Partners: Partner Education Webinar Series

Sept 15, 2020 - Insider Threat Management

Learn how your customers can benefit from an insider threat management solution to strengthen their resilience.

Proofpoint Protect 2020

Join us for our flagship annual conference on September 9 and 10. We’ll be bringing together the best and brightest minds in cybersecurity to connect and share insights with you.

News to Know

Blog: 5 reasons why insider threats should be on every CISO’s radar

Blog: How the new normal is impacting insider threat management

Report: According to the study, the average global cost of Insider Threats rose by 31% in two years to $11.45 million, and the frequency of incidents spiked by 47% in the same time period.