New Partnership
Proofpoint and VMware Carbon Black

We are pleased to announce a new VMware Carbon Black partnership to provide multi-layered protection and response against threats across email and endpoints. This announcement continues Proofpoint’s partner ecosystem expansion and provides immediate benefits to organizations with a multi-layer offering.

We invite partners to join us on April 21st to learn more on Proofpoint and VMware Carbon Black’s partnership and how you can enhance your customers security posture. To learn more about this joint integration you can also read the latest blog post and solution brief.
