

SPLUNK INTEGRATION WITH PROOFPOINT THREAT RESPONSE AND ET INTELLIGENCE

Incident responders face an uphill battle even when they employ SIEMs. They're hindered by manual operational checklists and a lack context, workflow, and automation. Fortunately, security teams with Splunk and Proofpoint can improve efficiency and improved security, thanks to Splunk integration with Proofpoint Threat Response and ET Intelligence.

Our pre-built integrations with Splunk and our Splunk technology add-on (TA) help accelerate incident response and improve efficiencies. It works in these five steps:

STEP		BENEFIT
1	Collect alerts from Splunk and other sources	Seamlessly works alert generated by Splunk and other detection tools.
2	Query Splunk and view activity logs for host in Threat Response	Revealing original source logs from Splunk in Threat Response eliminates confirming events in all other device consoles.
3	Launch Splunk UI in context from Threat Response	Pre-built query in Threat Response enables immediate access to query data in Splunk
4	Publish curated Threat Intelligence to Splunk	Threat reputation hits from Proofpoint Threat Response augment and accelerate information review and decision-making.
5	Leverage ET Splunk Technology Add-on (TA) to pull ET reputation data and hunt for threats in Splunk activity logs	By automatically connecting ET Reputation data to Splunk, simple queries in Splunk are instantly more powerful. Threats that normally take minutes of hit-or-miss searching in Splunk are instantly surfaced right in the Splunk interface.
