

Customer Training Packages

Start your team on the right foot—accelerate product adoption and time to value.

Our customer training package includes a private training delivery exclusively for a single organization, designed to align with your specific environment and business objectives.

Why Choose a Private Training Package?

Do you have a large team to enable? A customer training package brings your entire team up to speed together with a dedicated instructor focused solely on your organization. Private training accelerates product adoption and time to value, helping your team realize measurable value from your investment faster.

Unlike public sessions attended by multiple Proofpoint customers, private delivery provides:

- The ability to discuss real-world scenarios unique to your environment
- Deeper Q&A with dedicated one-on-one time with the instructor
- Focused collaboration across your internal teams
- Accelerated onboarding for new administrators and analysts

What's Included

- Kickoff call to identify training needs
- Custom training plan
- Delivered by a certified instructor
- Coverage for up to 12 students for a maximum of 5 days total
